ACADEMIC PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

1. DESCRIPTION OF THE EDUCATION ABROAD PROGRAM:

This course will introduce students to the cultural comparative study of human sexuality and sexual health education in a context where sexual health outcomes are the best in the world. The Netherlands has comprehensive sex education, regulated and decriminalized prostitution, and was one of the first to legalize gay marriage. With their openness to sexuality and emphasis on talking about sex and sexuality with parents, peers, and educators from a young age, sexuality is seen as a healthy part of human development rather than something of which to be ashamed. Students will be immersed in this culture and learn from their model of sexuality and sexual health education. The study abroad will last three weeks. Undergraduate students will be enrolled in KHP 220 (Sexuality Education), and KHP 395 (Independent Study). Graduate students will be enrolled in KHP 609 (under review to become KHP 678, Sexual Health Promotion) and KHP 695 (Independent Study). All students will engage in a service learning component and will be encouraged to engage in research while in Amsterdam.

International destination city(s) and country(s):	Amsterdam, The Netherlands
Recommended program title:	Sexuality and Sexual Health Education in the Netherlands
Semester and year offered:	Summer Session II
Anticipated program dates (if known):	July 1 – July 18
Experience type (study, internship, research, teaching, service learning):	Study Abroad with Service Learning and Research
Is the EA program part of a broader initiative? If so, please specify.	No
Is this an Embedded Education Abroad ¹ program?	No, the program is not embedded in a residential course
Total number of UK credits to be offered:	5+ISP599 for Undergraduate Students, 6+ISP 599 for Graduate Students
Host institution (if applicable):

¹ International programs offered for academic credit that include a brief experience abroad as a minor component of a course (one credit or less) for which most of the content is provided within the United States. This category generally includes short-term, usually faculty-directed, group travel programs for which an international excursion is supplemental or embedded within an academic course. Embedded programs are typically offered during the fall and spring semesters with travel occurring during semester breaks.

Do you intend for this to be a recurring program? If yes, please indicate the plan for future offerings.	Possibly once per year at a similar time each year

2. PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Please provide at least three student learning outcomes for the overall program. These may be used for promotion and outreach, and also for education abroad outcomes assessment research and program evaluation purposes.

a.	Students will learn about the differences between the United States and Netherlands systems of sexuality and sexual health education. In this, they will learn the material necessary for teaching sexuality education in the United States and reasons behind why differences exist.
b.	Students will challenge attitudes toward contemporary issues such as gay marriage, access to contraceptives, access to abortion, and abstinence-only sex education and will learn the content necessary to understand how these attitudes are formed.
c.	Students will engage in a critical cultural comparison analysis regarding sexual health outcomes as described by the World Health Organization based on their service learning and research experiences abroad.

Please provide a brief explanation of how these learning outcomes will be assessed.

This course will focus on critical analysis and will be writing-intensive. Students will be expected to articulate the implications of differences between the United States and the Netherlands with regard to sexuality and sexual health education. Students will also be assessed based on weekly reflective papers that will document any perspective shifts experienced during the course. Undergraduate students will be required to create a lesson plan on the topic of their choice and will be asked to distinguish how it would be taught in the United States (based on SIECUS guidelines) versus the Netherlands. Graduate students will be required to write a research paper that includes a cultural comparative component. Additionally, the final paper will include the World Health Organization sexual health outcomes and students will be required to analyze the predictors of rank for these outcomes worldwide, specifically focused on the Netherlands and the United States. Through class instruction, field trips, and service learning, students will learn the core subject of the course in addition to the cultural differences.

3. ADDITIONAL PROGRAM GOALS OR HIGHLIGHTS

Please note any additional goals or highlights of the program that will be of interest to potential students. These can include unique elements such as specific site visits, guest lectures, special activities, etc. These highlights may be included in printed and online promotional materials.

a.	A guest lecture from Dr. Lisette Kyuper, a researcher at the Netherlands Institute for Social Research and leading expert on LGBT sexuality issues.
b.	Meet with professionals at Rutgers/World Population Foundation in Utrecht developing sex education curriculum in the Netherlands and internationally.
c.	A visit to Amsterdam's Red Light District with staff from the Prostitute Information Center.

4. ACADEMIC COURSE INFORMATION:

In order for residential UK courses to be taught off-campus, the academic content must be consonant with the original intent and learning outcomes of the course. In cases where the learning outcomes are substantially different, a "Special Topics" designation within the major must be used. When the learning outcomes remain consistent with the already approved UK course, the regular course number and title will be used.

For summer and winter intersessions, the academic course(s) will be accompanied on the transcript by ISP 599: Study Abroad. This is a one credit hour pass/fail course used to indicate that the enrolled student is participating in an education abroad program. Courses delivered entirely abroad will carry a section number of 701-799 and will be built as "off campus" activity types. They will also be accompanied by a course note indicating that the course is taught abroad.

For fall and spring embedded education abroad programs, participants will not be enrolled in ISP 599 and the course should not be built as "off campus" or with the 701-799 section number. Academic courses taught via embedded programs should be built with a course note indicating that the course has a required international travel component.

If the program is open to graduate students, please include both the undergraduate and graduate course information. It is acceptable to list the graduate credit as something that must be arranged individually.

RISK MANAGEMENT

1. DESTINATION SPECIFIC HEALTH AND SAFETY CONCERNS:

All Education Abroad at UK programs must adhere to best practices in health, safety and security. Additionally, UK Risk Management may be asked to review program structures to minimize institutional liability.

Per AR 4:9, the University does not sponsor or approve international travel for educational purposes in a country for which a U.S. Department of State Travel Warning is in effect. However, the University will consider exceptions on a case-by-case basis. Exceptions are based upon petitions submitted by each student, faculty, or staff employee proposing the travel, and are reviewed by the Travel Warning Subcommittee of the Education Abroad Advisory Committee. The Subcommittee makes a recommendation to the Associate Provost for International Programs, who consults with the college dean, or designee, before making a final decision.
