RE: Revisions in Sport Leadership Emphasis Curriculum Guide

Rationale for Revisions

The Sport Leadership faculty is requesting to update our curriculum guide for Sport Leadership Graduate students. The rationale for revising our curriculum guide is to update course numbers that have been changed from KHP 781: Selected Topics Course (trial course) to 600-level (permanent numbering) series course numbers. These changes will provide consistency within our course numbering and help to prevent issues with multiple sections of KHP 781 on students' transcripts. No substantial changes will occur with the curriculum. The required courses within the Sport Leadership emphasis will remain intact but the new course numbers will reflect the updates that have been completed. Simultaneously, we would also like to continue our application process for KHP 684: Diversity in Sport and Fitness Organizations, which was previously tabled by Courses and Curricula until a curriculum update was provided.

Our goal for conducting these revisions is twofold: (1) to improve consistency within our course numbering, specifically with KHP 781s and (2) to strengthen our students' marketability for advanced degrees.

Current Requirements for Sport Leadership:

KHP courses: Declared Sport Leadership graduate students are required to take KHP 644: Research Methods; KHP 676: Current Issues in Sport; KHP 685: Supervision of Sport and Fitness Personnel; KHP 781: Leadership, Theory, and Practice; KHP 781: Diversity in Sport Organizations. Statistics courses: EPE 557, EDP 570, EPE 570 or STA 570.

13. Please explain the rationale for changes. If the rationale involves accreditation requirements, please include specific references to those requirements.

Sport Leadership continually strives for improvement within our emphasis in Kinesiology & Health Promotion. In order to provide a high-quality and consistent curriculum, minor changes will need to be made to our emphasis's curriculum guide. One issue we are attempting to resolve is consistency in our course numbering system. For years, many of our students have finished our emphasis with multiple sections of KHP 781: Pro-seminar (Special Title) on their transcripts. KHP 781 is a generic course number that is used for a trial basis. KHP 781 course enrollments have justified a course number change for a few of our courses. Two of these courses, KHP 781: Diversity and KHP 781: Leadership Theory, are required within our emphasis. For this reason, it is imperative that we change our numbering system, for those two courses, to permanent 600-level course numbers. The 600-level course numbering will give consistency to our numbering system and improve our students' marketability after graduating from our emphasis. In addition to the course number changes, our curriculum guide will also need to be updated to reflect these changes. Included with this proposal is a proposed new course, KHP 684: Diversity in Sport & Fitness Organizations. In conclusion, the Sport Leadership emphasis is seeking an approval for minor changes to our course numbering and subsequently, our curriculum guide.
